

Going to

We use I am doing (present continuous) when we say what we have arranged to do – for example, arranged to meet somebody, arranged to go somewhere.

Lo usamos cuando mencionamos lo que hemos planificado, ya sea encontrarnos con alguien, salir a algún lado, etc.

Pronoun	Be	Going to	Infinitive Verb
	Present	Positive or Negative	Verb
I	am	(not) going to	Walk
He/she/it	is	(not) going to	call
We/you/they	are	(not) going to	write

Lisa is going to apply for a F-4 visa to get a green card for his brother.

President Trump is going to enforce new immigration laws.

Exercises

Chris is _____. He is driving to the beach and has little gas left in the tank.
(fill up)

Erica and I are _____ tennis on Saturday. (play)

Joshua bought a pair of pants. He _____ every Thursday for work. (wear)

